

Richard Keegan, FCCA FCILA

Senior Executive Adjuster Accountant

Professional Summary

Richard is a dual qualified accountant adjuster (FCCA / FCILA) who has worked in the major loss arena since 2005, being part of the response to the London Underground bombings, the Buncefield Explosion, the 2011 Riots, and Westgate Mall 2015 terror attack in Nairobi.

Over this period he has handled claims for business interruption and stock loss relating to a wide range of business sectors, and over the past decade has handled a large selection of claims relating to Employee Dishonesty. Richard has also had involvement with engagements relating to DSU, Interdependency, Product Recall and Broker Professional Indemnity, along with the preparation of expert reports.

As a dual qualified adjuster / accountant, a key aspect of Richard's work in recent years has been in respect of material damage and associated financial losses where inspection is not possible or practical, and evidence of insurable interest, condition and value is limited to commercial records.
