

Amy Pinkerton,

EGA, Assistant Vice President

Professional Summary

With over 20 years of claims adjusting experience, Amy is an award-winning adjuster who specializes in complex first- and third-party claims including inland marine, property damage, and general commercial liability.

Amy brings numerous years of leadership experience in broad industries and professional roles, with expertise in steering operations for productivity and efficiency, team performance, resource allocation, risk management, client servicing, and bottom-line sales and profits. Additional background includes research, investigation, negotiations, litigation, high-exposure loss management, conflict resolution, and risk controls.

Pinkerton is a motivating, hands-on leader, with proven communication, consultation, presentation, and relationship management skills critical to productively interfacing with all business stakeholders.

At Adjusteck, Amy works cooperatively with expert witnesses, attorneys, public adjusters, and carrier's examiners as needed to conduct investigations, confirm findings and support evaluations.

Significant Claims Handled Worldwide

- Reduced $10M demand to $25,000 settlement for a trip/fall with injuries through research, evaluation and negotiation.
- Avoided costly litigation in plaintiff friendly venues by using ability to communicate and maintain a relationship with opposing counsel.
- Completed in person investigations and canvassing to secure needed information and evidence to successfully deny liability on high exposure losses.
